PACER Center enhances the quality of life and expands opportunities for children, youth, and young adults with all disabilities and their families so each person can reach his or her highest potential. PACER operates on the principles of parents helping parents, supporting families, promoting a safe environment for all children, and working in collaboration with others. With assistance to individual families, workshops, materials for parents and professionals, and leadership in securing a free and appropriate public education for all children, PACER's work affects and encourages families in Minnesota and across the nation. In 1977, PACER began with one project: Parents Helping Parents. Thirty years and 30 programs later, PACER is still staffed primarily by parents of children with disabilities dedicated to educating other parents and improving the lives of families and children.

PartnerCafe is a consortium of city, state and federal agency decision-makers, including non-profit and faith-based organizations. We invite the community, the recipients of policies decided without their input, to share their experiences so we can change for the better. The vacuum we all work so hard to fill is the group's recognition that we are interdependent. Each sector and each individual have an equal seat at the table. We work to improve social issues, develop "safe" places where voices make a difference, find common ground, and courageously make changes in how we view disparities in order to collectively "transform the lives of vulnerable populations." We consist of "subject matter experts," leaders and policy-makers in our respective fields. But we are also mothers, fathers, and disabled youth / adults, activists, and community members who made a decision to be led by and learn from the most vulnerable among us. That is who we are. Engage, inform then act, is what we do.

Partners4Housing has developed an innovative housing model for people with disabilities that involves families collaborating with other families to create a shared living solution. Shared living is when people with disabilities live together to share housing and support services that may include caregiving, supervision, shopping, cooking, cleaning, medication management, money management, planning social and recreational activities, transportation, representative payee services, benefits coordination, and more. The essence of our model is that compatible families commit to working together to identify and secure appropriate housing and services, and they collaborate to make the shared solution successful.

Adjusting to a new diagnosis or an ongoing, chronic illness can be difficult for both children and their families. Mary Bridge Children's Psychology Services works in partnership with your child's other providers to help patients and families cope with psychological challenges related to a medical diagnosis or condition. Typical referral concerns include adjustment to illness, non-adherence to medical treatment protocol, anxieties related to procedures and suspected psychological factors affecting an illness. Treatment can include cognitive-behavioral, solution focused and behavioral family therapy. Our pediatric psychology experts offer outpatient psychotherapy to patients and families, as well as consulting services for patients at Mary Bridge Children's Hospital. The services we provide include: inpatient consultation, outpatient consultation, outpatient therapy, and biofeedback.

Psychiatry

Website: <https://www.marybridge.org/services/psychiatry/>

Mary Bridge Children's Psychiatry Services works closely with other providers to help evaluate and create treatment plans for Mary Bridge patients with complex mental health conditions. Our program requires a referral from another Mary Bridge or MultiCare medical provider and is only for patients being seen or treated within Mary Bridge Children's Hospital or other Mary Bridge Children's clinics. Services we provide include: diagnostic evaluations for complex mental health conditions, including psychosis, bipolar disorder, obsessive compulsive disorder, autism and comorbid conditions.

Voters living with a disability have the opportunity to mark their ballots privately and independently using assistive ballot marking devices. These devices have a variety of accessibility options including audio, large font, color contrast, touch screen input and tactile input to assist voters in marking a ballot. The machines print out a scannable, marked ballot which the voter can review, the ballot is then placed in an envelope and dropped in a ballot box with other ballots. Ballots are verified and processed at the Election Center, like every other ballot returned through the mail or at a drop box. This accessible equipment is available in the Pierce County Election Center during normal business hours 18 days prior to every election. Other voting center locations may be available depending on the election.

The Pierce Transit Community Transportation Advisory Group (CTAG) is a nine-member advisory group that provides input to the Board of Commissioners. It was chartered to offer an opportunity for community stakeholders to provide feedback and suggest improvements and recommendations on plans, policies, and services offered by Pierce Transit. CTAG was created to provide a forum for interactive discussions that encourages community stakeholder input, creating a two-way conduit to inform and get information out to the public; represent the interests of the community and assist staff and the Board of Commissioners in meeting strategic priorities. They provide input to the Board of Commissioners on local public transportation issues such as: service changes, Title VI requirements, strategic plans, budget, fare structures, transit amenities, and other issues.

The PLAY (Play and Language for Autistic Youngsters) Project/PLAY Autism Intervention, is an intensive, home-based approach focused on helping children with autism ages 2 to 6 build relationships and learn to engage, interact and communicate with others. PLAY trains parents to provide treatment at home, and shows parents practical ways of making every interaction with their child a growing and learning experience. Although not designed to replace a child's on-going therapy services, such as occupational or speech therapy, PLAY helps families provide a more intense, successful and cost-effective overall intervention program for their children with autism. PLAY at CTU is a year-long program that includes: pre- and post-assessment, a training DVD and manual, ten three - hour home visits, and ten video analyses. Established in 1982, Rainier Foothills Wellness Foundation (RWF) is a community-based non-profit organization that mobilizes our community to address the critical issues of hunger, access to healthcare, mental health and student success. Our mission is to create and support a healthy community. We convene and collaborate with donors, volunteers, clients, businesses, local government and faith and community leaders to meet the needs of our most vulnerable citizens and solve our community's toughest challenges. RFWF carries out its mission through community-wide, core initiatives including the Care Van and Neighbors Feeding Neighbors; initiatives designed to meet emerging needs including mental health and integrated student supports; mini-grants to other organizations that align with our mission; and by providing meaningful opportunities for caring citizens to serve and invest financially in their community. Rainier Foothills Wellness Foundation serves seniors, veterans, disabled, families, and elementary and middle school students in the Enumclaw and White River School Districts. Our service area includes southeast King County and northeast Pierce County serving the communities of Plateau and Foothills. Specific areas include Enumclaw, Black Diamond, Cumberland, Ravensdale, Buckley, Carbonado, Green Water, and Wilkeson. First, we assess the needs of each community in which we serve. We work to understand the obstacles, hardships, and challenges native to the area's particular population. Next, we build local programs designed to offer immediate relief, short-term care, and long-term growth in the areas that will best benefit the community. Then, we offer the local programs to the local community, working to continually optimize their efficacy via spiritual, physical, and emotional service. What we do: help disaster survivors, cure hunger, overcome poverty, serve the LGBTQ community, provide shelter, fight human trafficking, stop domestic violence, equip families, teach kids, empower the arts, assist the unemployed, combat addiction, love the elderly, serve

The School of Education and Kinesiology prepares future educators, practitioners and leaders who positively impact the world around them. As a school we strive to create evidence based practitioners through an education that is grounded in theoretical and contemporary knowledge and that engages students through immersive, experiential learning experiences. The school is comprised of two strong departments, Education and Kinesiology. Education at PLU is defined by rigorous academics coupled with early and on-going field experiences. It includes both undergraduate and graduate degree programs that can lead to initial teaching certification. As a department, Education seeks interactive, collaborative partnerships between students, teachers, administrators, parents, and the business and social community as it strives to provide the most relevant and meaningful programming possible. In addition, the department is committed to lifelong learning for alumni and all educators through offerings in the partnership and professional development program. Kinesiology programs are designed to provide quality academic professional preparation for undergraduate students in areas related to the study of human movement, especially as it supports the pursuit of lifelong physical activity and well-being. Specifically, Kinesiology offers programs in health & fitness education, recreation, exercise science, pre-physical therapy, pre-athletic training and health & fitness promotion. These programs serve to prepare future

Our Union represents more than 45,000 long-term care workers providing quality home care, nursing home care, and residential services in Washington and Montana. Since being founded in 2002, by uniting together, standing strong, and making our voices heard, caregivers have doubled those wages - and experienced caregivers earn even more. But we're not stopping there! Every time we go back to the bargaining table, we're fighting for better wages, healthcare, PTO, paid family leave, L&I, retirement, and the right for those we care for to live dignified lives. Not only does being a part of our Union mean you have benefits, but you also have representation and rights. Whether you've experienced issues with your paycheck or had unfair terminations or disciplinary action against you in your career with the State of Washington or Montana, your agency, or your nursing home - you have the right to representation should any of this happen to you. Our Union is made of and for caregivers, from our democratically elected board, to the members of our bargaining teams. Caregivers make our Union strong.

Self Advocates in Leadership (SAIL) is a coalition of over 200 people with developmental disabilities interested in shaping public policy in Washington State. SAIL is unique because the members of the coalition have developmental disabilities as well as the support staff. People with disabilities can have a powerful voice in the legislature. We have been gathering together to learn about how the legislative process works and then putting those skills to work on at least one bill each session since 2004.

Sherwood exists to create an inclusive society where children and adults with disabilities have the ability to live full, independent lives as part of their communities. Sherwood was started in 1957 by eight families of children with disabilities who were excluded from a public education. Together, they created Sherwood to prove that their children not only had the right, but the ability to learn. People with disabilities were segregated and isolated due to the societal expectation that they would be cared for out of the public eye; they were in effect considered second class citizens and deemed incompetent without any rights. While society has advanced significantly in the past 60+ years, current education and employment statistics throughout our state and county are not reflective of a truly inclusive community for people with disabilities. Sherwood strives to create an inclusive society where children and adults with disabilities have the ability to live full, independent lives as a part of their community.

Sibshop is a program for typically developing brothers and sisters who have a sibling with a disability or chronic health condition. The program is sponsored through Mary Bridge Good Samaritan Children's Therapy Unit and a variety of grants. The Sibshop Program is a highly regarded and award-winning workshop model that has been replicated in more than 200 communities in eight countries. For Good Samaritan and CTU, the Sibshop Program exemplifies our focus on family-centered care. Sibshop facilitators include occupational therapists, physical therapists, speech therapists, child psychologists and recreation therapists. Typically, Sibshops for 5 to 11 year olds are held one Saturday per month and Sibshops for 12 to 17 year olds are held one Thursday evening per month.

Sky Bridge Therapies is a speech and occupational therapy clinic where you will find a family-friendly environment from our reception area to our thoughtfully designed therapy rooms. Our specially designed facility provides a fun, exciting environment that will keep your child motivated in working toward his or her goals. Using the state-of-the-art space, our knowledgeable therapists work to provide individualized therapy using a team-based approach to produce optimal results across speech/language and occupational therapy goals. Additionally, you'll find a treatment room dedicated to feeding therapy. The cleverly designed "feeding room" is intended to replicate a "sit down" meal at home. Here your child can practice and learn to tackle feeding concerns related to oral-motor skills (biting, chewing), texture, "picky eating" and other issues that limit their ability to eat well-balanced meals. Whereas some families have to travel many miles, sometimes between counties, to go from one therapy to the next, Sky Bridge Therapies addresses all of your child's needs in one facility. Contact us for a tour of our facility or to meet our therapists to decide if our clinic is right for your child.

Special Child Family Services is a grassroots effort connecting parents, teachers, therapists, medical providers, and anyone who is actively involved with an individual who has disabilities or special medical needs on a daily basis. Our goal is to assist families in the following areas: family support, spiritual support, & equipment and supplies. Family Support is one of the core fundamentals of our ministry. We offer a parent-to-parent support group on our special child exchange Yahoo! Group, connecting you with 1,000+ families who are all experts in their own field of parenting and who can assist you with advice and information in a timely manner. Spiritual support is the heart of our ministry. We are a Christ-centered ministry, which leads us to be mindful of all of our members and their situations. The willingness of others to serve our families in all forms of crises is what we do, whether it is bringing a hot meal or willingly praying for a family who is in need. Medical equipment and supplies are daily needs for almost all of our families. It would only be natural for us to offer a way for our families to exchange gently used medical equipment, and unused medical supplies, in an effort to help other families who would normally not be able to afford such expensive equipment.

Stand for Children Washington has been advocating on behalf of public education in Washington since 2007. We are a non-profit education advocacy organization focused on ensuring all students receive a high quality, relevant education, especially those whose boundless potential is overlooked and under-tapped because of their skin color, zip code, first language, or disability. To fulfill our mission, we organize parents and community members to speak up and demand excellent schools for their children. We work closely with state legislators to shape education policy and with school districts to implement programming that will benefit every kid. We ensure that the policies we fight for reach classrooms and directly support students by supporting school districts with guidance and tools to implement successful strategies. Our political action committee takes great care to endorse and support candidates running for office in Washington who are committed education champions and will center students in their decision-making.

After an initial evaluation from a licensed therapist at one of three locations in Puyallup, Sundance Circle Therapeutic Riding Centers will work with your physician to obtain a release to ensure we can provide the safest and most effective treatment for each hippotherapy patient. After that, all subsequent treatment will be held at the Sundance Circle Therapeutic Riding Center in Sumner. Hippotherapy is the use of horseback riding as a therapeutic or rehabilitative treatment, especially as a means of improving coordination, balance, and strength. This therapy can help treat cerebral palsy, autism, Down's syndrome, ataxia, sensory integration disorder, developmental delay, traumatic brain injury, ADHD, genetic disorders, stroke patients, and many more.

Support U is a faith-based series of classes for anyone caring for an adult with a chronic condition such as aging, illness, or a disability. Our curriculums help prepare people for the role of caregiver. We raise community awareness about caregiving and serve as a valuable tool to prevent caregiver isolation and burnout. We focus on the physical, emotional, and spiritual health and well-being of caregivers. These 45-minute classes are intended to be presented to family caregivers free of charge or with a nominal fee or donation for materials. We offer Support U classes in: planning ahead; finding, creating, and using resources; self-care for the caregiver; family dynamics and communication; dementia, chronic illness and the family; and financial well-being.
